The littered corner that makes you cringe every morning as you cross it.

Bald patches of land where tabebuia trees could paint the view yellow.

That smart car-cleaning kid who can do more with education than most people around you.

Navigating through plastic on the beach as you run your morning run.

Grab that editing pen.
Change what you don't like.

Staying true to our 'green' credentials

Under the aegis of the CRISIL CSR Policy, CRISIL RE, CRISIL's environment conservation programme focuses on the urban afforestation by planting native trees in the vicinity of CRISIL offices. The program also strives to constructively engage employees and their families, friends, and relatives in environment conservation.

This involves preserving the oceans and forests, tackling climate change and its impact – thereby positively impacting “Climate Action” and “Life on Land” – two of the key United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs).

Through CRISIL RE, CRISIL Foundation has delivered meaningful impact towards environment conservation. As of late, the focus has been towards sustaining the mangrove plantations in the Sundarbans, as well as other plantations in and around our CRISIL office locations like Mumbai, Pune and Gurgaon.

Apart from plantations, CRISIL RE interventions also include water harvesting and conservation structures in new/existing plantation sites to complement the green cover to enable long-term sustenance.

Shaping the larger social consciousness quotient

Focused, meaningful engagement through physical and virtual engagement helped in driving responsible social consciousness among the CRISILites.

Positioned as #DateWithNature, the CRISILites participate in tree plantation, post-plantation, and maintenance drives across CRISIL office locations, thereby playing a proactive role in protecting, restoring, and rebuilding our planet.

As part of the annual Daan Utsav, CRISILites contribute by partnering with NGOs such as Robinhood Army, Goonj and Greensole for donating essentials to the underprivileged members of the society.

In addition, focused mentoring sessions are facilitated to improve the skillsets of the on-ground grassroots field staff. Volunteers donned the role of mentors and explained basic principles in Excel, data analysis and reporting, strategic planning, time management, and much more.

CRISIL Foundation

As the CSR arm of CRISIL Limited, CRISIL Foundation is dedicated to driving sustainable change by focusing on empowerment, environment, and gender. We firmly believe that by working at the intersection of these areas, we can create a better future.

Financial capability building – Empowering socially and economically underprivileged communities (especially women) through financial capability building and improving access to banking and social welfare entitlements.

Environment conservation – Works towards improving life on land by creating native urban forests in and around cities and life below water by focusing on reducing plastic in our oceans.

CRISIL's impactful CSR initiatives have earned us consecutive recognition for our commitment to positive change. We were honored with the prestigious National Corporate Social Responsibility Award in 2020 for exceptional achievements in financial capability building and environment conservation. This follows our previous recognition with the 'CSR in Challenging Circumstances, North-East' award for Mein Pragati in Assam, personally conferred by the Honourable President of India in 2019. We are proud of our consistent dedication to making a difference.
